HOODIES DAILY

POLICE DITCH THE WITCH'S BROOM

WWW.HOODIESMEDIA.ORG

EDITORIAL

Good morning welcome to the Hoodies Daily for Wednesday! Hey! How good was it to see Daniel Andrews sitting back amongst the rich and powerful of Australia! Andrews looking like an ice addict going through withdrawal was seen at a lunch with the very odd but wealthy Richard Pratt, former PM Pal Bearer, Wayne Swan and of course Albo! The demise of Andrews was obviously overblown so we can only assume he's right to go on all those missed court appearances?! My question is though, what the fucking hell does Andrews do for a billionaire, a former PM, the current PM and Wayne Swan? It's more than likely contacts which then makes you ask what the hell did he get up to when he was Premier?! But great to see the Ayatollah back!

Speaking of soulless arseholes, the van at the heart of the Ditch the Witch campaign featuring Jacinta Allan has been defected by Victoria Police prompting a new headline; Police ditch the Witch's broom!

Moving to another theme of Labor light Libs former PM Malcolm Turnbull has again gone after the Murdoch press this time asking why would any of his Labor colleagues, sorry opponents ever go on the likes of Sky after dark? A fair question for a Labor supporter but Malcolm you're supposed to be on the other side!

The tobacco wars are over? Well sort of and really it's all a bit of a let down really. There was no gangster bravado akin to the Underbelly years of the early 2000's, instead some 4 foot little twat was lead out of his Mum and Dads house in the western suburbs! The suspect is a 20 year old man who claims to be a loaded gangster with hundreds of minions at his disposal. Three years it's taken to catch him...he may be little and he may be 20 but the boy has a massive future ahead of him in finance if he can get himself a uni degree while he's inside!

Everyone's favourite President, Donald Trump is now really just taking the piss out of the world! Trump is now charging some ships going through the Straight of Hormuz a fee! In some cases the fee is a couple of million dollars and you can't help but ask, do US navy ships have EFTPOS terminals? Or do ships carry cash to just hand over? Either way what a joke!

In the new FREE land of Karl Stefanovic it's a new round of mainstream media stories about Karl being a rat bag but he's also turned up on Piers Morgan UNCENSORED! Karl who is still coming to terms with his FREEDOM told some of his former colleagues to fuck off being totally egged on by Morgan. It'll be interesting to see how Karl goes with the whole podcast thing because both Morgan and Joe Rogan aren't the blokey blokey interview types that Karl is. Will Karl be able to maintain his nice funny guy status or will he have to go hard like Morgan in particular has, time will tell.

And finally Labor are tanking in Victoria. Yes well may they say God save the Premier because not even Daniel Andrews will save Jacinta Allan!

AI AND UBI

If I hear another tech/Ai billionaire patronise the world again with stories of a universal basic income for everyone on the planet I'll spew up! I mean seriously have you ever heard of anything so fucking stupid?!

Oh you won't have to work again says the nice and trustworthy billionaire! Ai will take you jobs but it won't matter because we will give you free money to live and be happy! Well how about you all piss off and stop thinking that nerds will one day take over the world! It's not happening and it is actually quite terrifying to think and hear that there are some very wealthy and powerful people in the world that are wanting to keep everyone subservient and content with the one size fits all policy.

Today Albo gives a speech on the future of Ai in this country. Ai companies will be listening very carefully to what Albo has to say today. If he gives the tick of approval to Anthropic's demand to ditch copyright laws around their use of Australian content then Australia becomes a second home to Dario and Claude. If Albo says no to Anthropic then maybe we will see a turning of the tide for creatives, artists and anyone posting their own content online? An Albo no will mean Anthropic will have to pay for content and they don't want that. What they want is free stuff for which they're prepared to give Albo about $20 billion so it remains an interesting day ahead for the PM.

As much as Ai is changing our lives we are nowhere near ready to hand the keys to the mothership to a bunch of tech nerds and say ok take our jobs, take our freedom and give us all a basic weekly income so you can all become trillionaires! We are allowing the whole idea of Ai to be at the forefront of damaging our lives and right now we need to say no thank you. Today Albo can help slow the spread of Ai and its implications, will he be the leader we need right now, or will he just be another self serving politician that does absolute nothing to look after his constituents?

WE NEED TO BRING BACK ASPIRATION

Are we learning to aspire to mediocrity? Now yes we teach our kids they can be anything they want to be, but the reality is that not all of them will be brain surgeons and entrepreneurs. What instead we want our kids to have is a value system by which they can make their way in the world by being decent people. Be decent, the people your grandparents could be proud of.

While we crave decency for our kids it is the case that while we say you can be anything you want to be we don't seem to be saying it takes a lot of fucking hard work to be what you want. We live in an era where vapid influencers can be seen to be a success because of how many followers they have when in reality it's all just bullshit. What happened to aspiring to be something that takes extraordinary hard work? To put yourself out there and say I'm not accepting the government hand out and going beyond it.

We need to get back to being people and a country that doesn't take any short cuts, that is ruthless in its pursuit of a goal and can be proud of saying we did everything we could to win.

These lefty defeatists want more people to work for the public service, they want more people settling for mediocrity, they want more people to tow the line of big government and say OMG thank you Mr Albanese for your kindness and generosity...how's fuck off sound?!

There's a great line in the Tom Wolfe book, Bonfire of the Vanities, spoken by the judge at the end of the movie played by Morgan Freeman in the movie of the same title, where the judge addresses the crowd and says, "Be decent people! Go and be decent!" The erupts into a cesspit of depravity and there aren't too many decent people left, but we do need to be decent! We also need to be aspirational again because without it, without a desire to be more and go beyond what we are told is possible we may as well tell our kids they should settle for the tech companies UBI.

DO NOT BLAME MENTAL HEALTH, GROW UP!

Men's mental health is a massive issue in modern society and I am a massive advocate for helping men find their way through the dark, but! Men need to grow the fuck up!

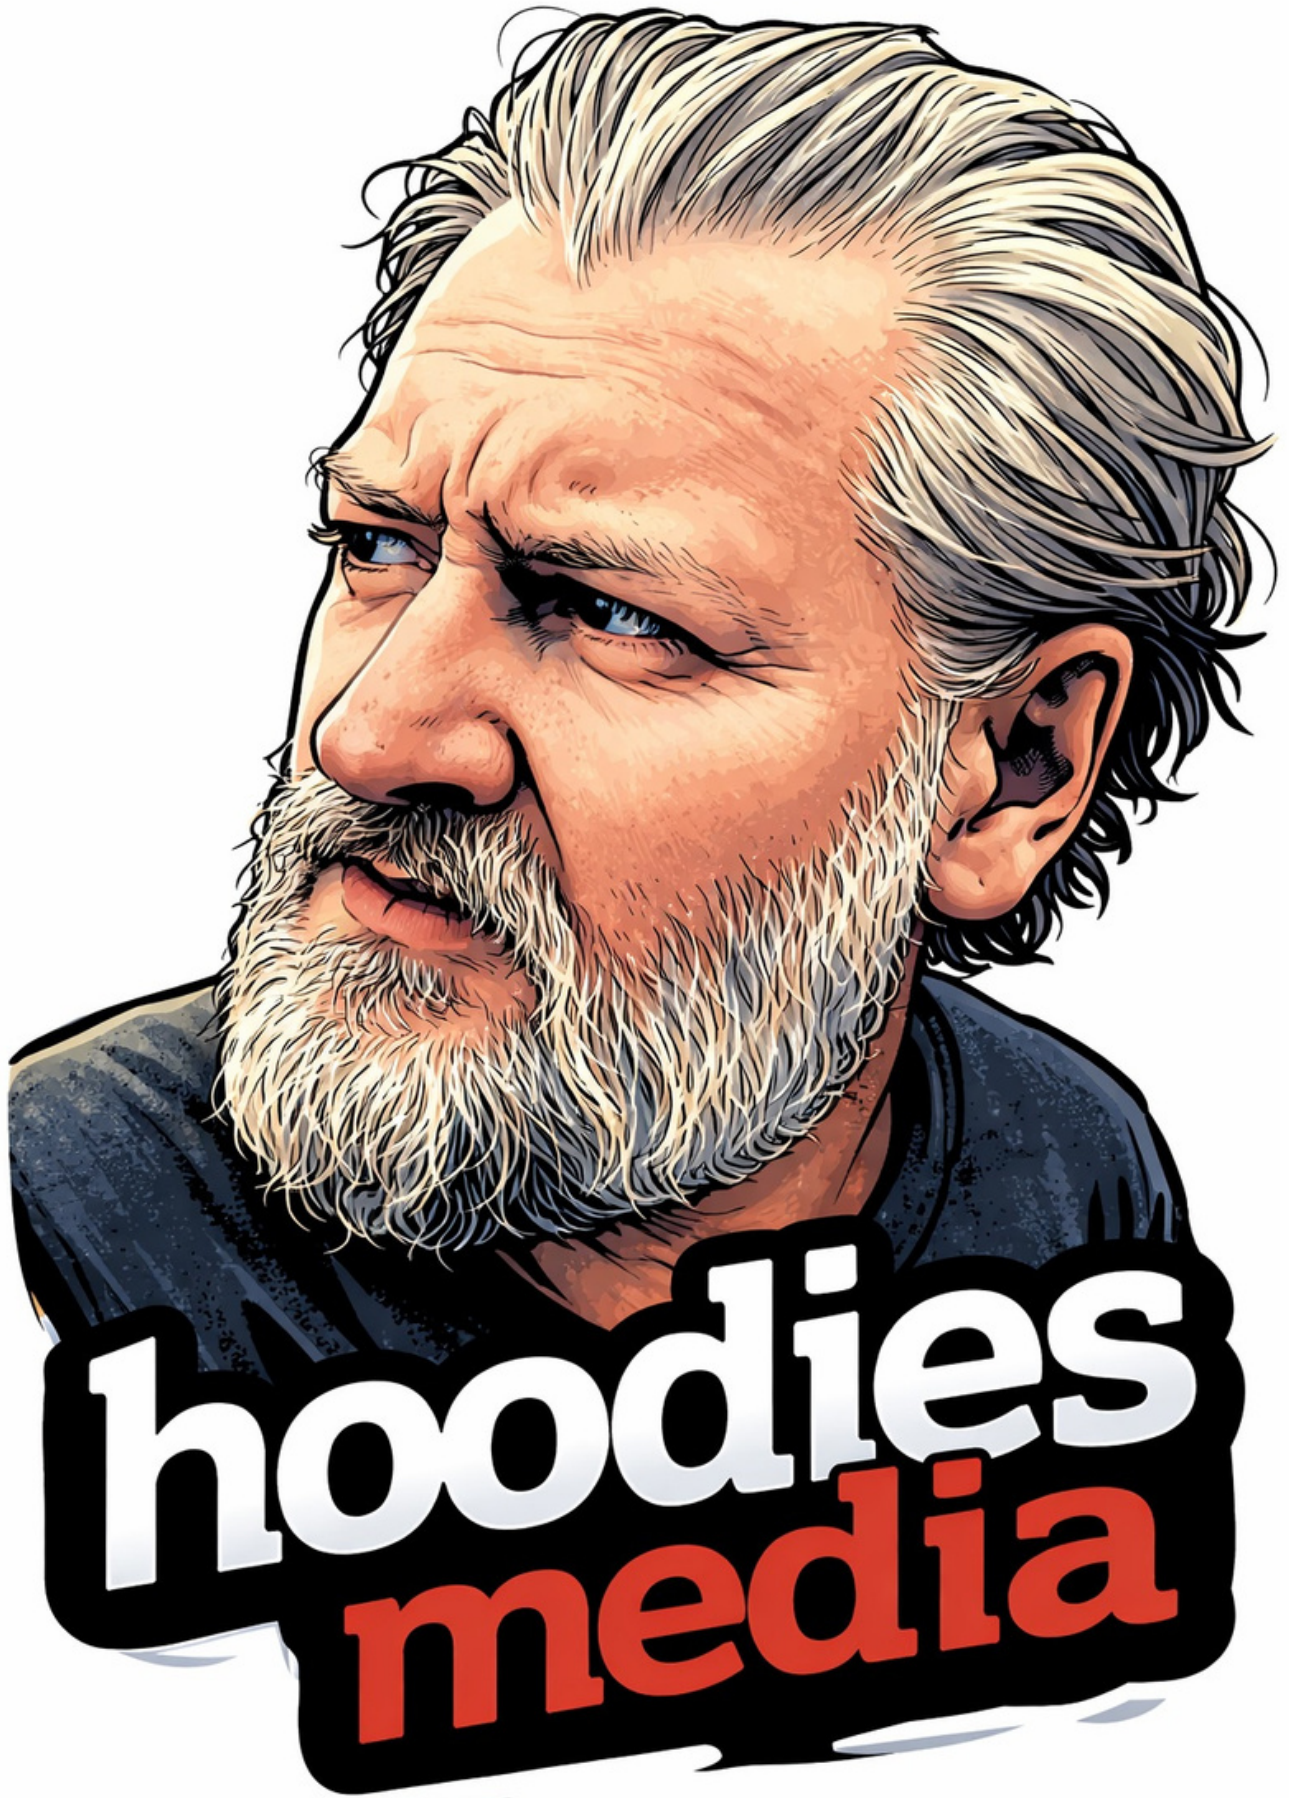

Ohhhhhh I beat my wife up, mental health, ohhhhhh I crashed the car after a piss up at a mates place, mental health, ohhhhhh the white powder I just did in the toilet with my best mate fell up my nose, mental health....ohhhhhh I cheated on my wife after ten years of marriage and after she stood by me, mental health...ohhhhhh I can't cope with the kids on the weekend and need my space, mental health...

On and on it fucking goes! Excuse after excuse, after excuse! Grow up! Seriously! And not only do these blokes need to grow up society as a whole needs to stop allowing them to pull the mental health card when it suits them! You don't get to beat the missus up and blame mental health, you're a cunt! You don't get pissed up crash the car and say mental health, you're a fuckwit! You don't go through hell rebuild your life with your wife sticking with you to fuck another bird on the side that makes you an arsehole! You need to face the realities of life! You need to make sacrifices and grow the fuck up!

How many of these AFL players need to get done for snorting coke thinking it's a fucking joke before they're actually arrested for possession of an illegal substance? How many blokes need to be caught being arseholes before they say yeah ok enough is enough now.

There are people out there, men out there who can't get out of the car at home because they're so broken. Men who have the black cloud of depression sitting above them. Men who genuinely can't see a way forward and yet we have the weak and the pathetic ones who fuck shit up, get caught doing it and blame mental health! It's pathetic.

So if you're struggling, call someone, get the real help you need please! But if you're just a selfish prick who can't keep his dick in his pants, thinks that cocaine is cool and that cheating on the missus who has stood by you is ok then you don't have mental health issues you're just a fucking arsehole.
